

Tribune & Georgian

Wednesday, August 1, 2012

tribune-georgian.com

75 Cents

INSIDE

No trespassing
The St. Marys Airport Authority prohibits skydiving at the airport. see 3A

Island life
The park service details its plans for several formerly private homes on Cumberland Island. see 8A

INDEX

OBITUARIES	2A
OPINION	4A
UPCOMING EVENTS	6A
SPORTS	1B
PEOPLE	3B
CLASSIFIEDS	5B
LEGALS	7B

TODAY'S POLL

Do you think the U.S. Postal Service should move Kingsland mail carriers to St. Marys?

Vote online at tribune-georgian.com

Tribune & Georgian

P.O. Box 6960, St. Marys, Ga. 31558

Volume 109, No. 61
26 pages • Two sections
tribune-georgian.com

© 2012, Tribune & Georgian, Community Newspapers Inc.

To start your subscription today, call (912) 882-4927.

1 84264 00003 4

CCSO charges two in shooting death

Kim Upshaw
kim@tribune-georgian.com

Two men were arrested and charged Tuesday in connection with the murder of a Woodbine man.

Sheriff's office deputies arrested Timothy Demetrius Sapp, 32, of St. Marys and Cyrus Jonathan Bell, 26, of Waynesville and charged each with one count of murder in the death of Charles Rico Smith, 34. Deputies found Smith in the 300 block of 13th Street in Woodbine on Friday night after they responded to a report of shooting.

When they arrived on scene, Smith was bleeding from a gunshot wound to the abdomen. He was taken to Southeast Georgia Health System, where he was later pronounced dead.

Bell

Sapp

The arrests come after investigators served six search warrants looking for evidence to tie the two men to the crime, according to a Camden County Sheriff's Office press release. Interviews with witnesses alerted detectives to the two men's presence at the scene. Robbery may have been the motive, and additional charges are pending.

The Georgia Bureau of Investigation assisted with the case.

Body found along I-95 is that of Florida man

Emily Heglund
editor1@tds.net

Investigators believe a body found Sunday, July 22, along Interstate 95 is that of a man missing in Florida.

The body of Jonathan David Lundstrom, 28, of Clermont, Fla., was discovered in the trunk of a car hidden by foliage in the interstate median in northern Camden County. An autopsy was performed last Tuesday in Savannah but an official cause of death has not been determined as of press time, according to Camden County Sheriff's Office Deputy William Terrell.

"Foul play is not expected and we're awaiting the results of the toxicology test from the Georgia Bureau of Investigation," Terrell said.

The Lake County (Florida) Sheriff's Office issued a lookout notice for Lundstrom on July 18 after he was reported missing, Terrell said.

The car containing Lundstrom's body, a 1995

Submitted photo

The 1995 Buick Regal containing the body of a Florida man was hidden in foliage along Interstate 95 in north Camden County.

Buick Regal with a Florida tag, was discovered around 10:40 a.m. Sunday, July 22, by a Georgia Department of Transportation employee mowing grass on the I-95 median around the southbound 23 mile marker, according to Terrell.

Terrell said the worker called 911 after he detected a bad smell coming from the car and, after noticing the same odor, deputies obtained a search warrant because the trunk was locked.

The body was found naked and badly decomposed inside the trunk of the car, which was owned by Lundstrom, according to Terrell. It could be weeks before the toxicology report is ready.

Gilman legacy lives on at center

Johna Strickland Rush
johna@tribune-georgian.com

"When you take from nature you should give something back to nature." — Howard Gilman

Hasari sights her prey and gives chase. She thunders gracefully through the grass; her legs a swift blur of motion as she dashes toward the rabbit.

Rhinos graze a few hundred yards away, showing little interest in the world's fastest land mammal.

But this isn't Africa. It's White Oak Conservation Center in northeast Florida and Hasari, the cheetah, is chasing an artificial rabbit.

Established in 1982, the wildlife conservation center spreads across 600 acres in the 7,400-acre White Oak Plantation along the St. Marys River. Home to 25 species under some threat of extinction, the first ani-

Johna Strickland Rush | Tribune & Georgian

Hasari, a cheetah born in September 2007 at White Oak, chases an artificial rabbit at the wildlife conservation center in July. Funded by the Howard Gilman Foundation, White Oak has been for sale since April. The board wants to find a buyer who will maintain the animal programs.

See NATURE, page 10A

Camden County Sheriff

Gregory

Tommy Gregory3,957
Bill Smith.....3,500

Probate Court Judge

Wise

Robert Morgan2,136
Shirley Wise5,563

Camden County Tax Commissioner

Soles

Pat Smith.....1,505
Beth Soles5,612

Board of Commissioners District 1

Preston Rhodes (D)*221
Chip Keene (R)*1,377

*These candidates each have no opposition and will face off in the November 2012 election.

Board of Commissioners District 5

Sheppard

Raymond Browning.....337
Randy Gunter*497
Tony Sheppard*492

Gunter

*Neither candidate received more than 50 percent of the vote so there will be a runoff between Gunter and Sheppard.

House of Representatives District 174

Ellis Black (R)*902
Teresa Lawrence (D)*102

*Camden County results only. These candidates each have no opposition and will face off in the November 2012 election.

House of Representatives District 180

Spencer

Adam Jacobson*2,784
Jason Spencer*3,075

*Camden County results only.

District Attorney

Johnson

Jackie Johnson*5,031
Jonathan Miller*1,708

*Camden County results only.

T-SPLOST Yes2,638 No.....5,662

Woodbine Sunday Alcohol Sales

Package Yes204 No.....155
By the Drink Yes182 No.....177

*Results do not include 497 absentee ballots that were counted after press time Tuesday.